was steady and sure, bringing several of the important structures to a point where inclement winter weather will not hinder operations.

The most important announcement made during the week was that of J. J. Culbertson, who proposes to complete his block to Fourth and Boulder by the erection of a one-story building extending one hundred feet on Boulder and a similar distance on Fourth. All of this will be frontage as the storehouse will be only thirty feet deep.

Mr. Culbertson said last night that the contemplated building will be only temporary. His intention is to erect a three-story building as soon as materials decrease in price.

Culbertson Builds.

Mr. Culbertson has recently completed a three-story structure on Fourth street and is erecting another on Boulder. The new one-story building will be on the corner between these two. Mr. Culbertson's entire lot is 140 feet frontage on Fourth street and 200 feet on Boulder.

The postoffice building, Third and Boulder, was completed during the week so far as most of the exterior work is considered. The heavy stone work, which has been so long and tedious, is done. The entire force of workmen will be put on the inside during the winter.

The additions of third stories to the H. C. McClure building on Main near Fourth, and on Tulsa Motor company garage at Sixth and Main, were half completed.

In All Parts of City. Other buildings which are now undergoing interior decoration are the Hight Way laundry on South Cincinnati, the Jewish synagogue at Eleventh and Cheyenne, and the J. E. Washington garage at Seventh and Main.

Work of pouring concrete on the new station and Valley depot began during the week. The old depot has been moved across the tracks to make way for construction work.

"It is amazing to me," said an expert, "that I can't keep track with this city. I went to a dealer in crushed rock the other day and found that I couldn't get any from him until 1917. Some buildings!"

SCHOOL REPORTS SENT TO WILSON

State Superintendent of Education Learns of Efforts in County.

County Superintendent H. D. Maxwell yesterday handed in his report to the state superintendent of schools, R. H. Wilson. It is the annual report for the fiscal year ending July 1, and is gratifying in every respect.

Mr. Maxwell's report shows that there were three new buildings erected in Tulsa county during the past year at a cost of $77,000. The number of teachers which have been employed was 551. Eighty-four school buildings were used.

The value of the school property in the county is $1,533,570. During the past year $572,984.05 has been expended upon the schools of the county in the payment of salaries for teachers and the upkeep of the buildings and property.

Store Closed at Noon Monday, Labor Day.

We congratulate ourselves and our customers on the apparent settlement of the strike. We did not try to alarm anybody, nor induce them to buy, for this reason, omitting even our usual advertising, nor did we raise prices any more than they would have been raised had there been no threatened strike. It was necessary to limit potatoes to a peck to a customer, a wise precaution, as this way we were able to give all a limited supply. If the strike had come we would be in a position to continue serving everybody the same way.

We believe in preparedness, therefore WE WERE NOT CAUGHT SHORT; we believe in the square deal, therefore WE DID NOT TAKE ADVANTAGE OF AN OPPORTUNITY TO BOOST PRICES AND REAP AN EXTRA PROFIT AT THE EXPENSE OF THE PUBLIC.

SCHOOLS TO OPEN IN BARTLESVILLE

Largest Enrollment in History of City Is Expected Monday Morning.

Special to The World.

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Sept. 2.—Bartlesville's schools will open for the term of 1916-17 on Monday, September 2. That is the date most of the district schools of the county will open too. In the city schools the term extends over a period of nine months. In the district schools about 50 per cent of the schools have a nine-month term and the balance have an eight-month term.

This year Bartlesville's schools will show a record enrollment on the opening day. That is shown in a late census taken of the number of children of school age in the city and the large number of tuition students who will enroll for the coming term. Quite likely the attendance on the opening day will be close to 2,800 students in the high and ward schools of the city. Sixty-five teachers have been engaged to teach in the city schools, the largest number hired in any one year. Because of the increased attendance more teachers will have to be hired.

Success Crowns the Opening Day COVERDALE'S

It is a difficult matter for the management to express their many thanks and appreciation to the public of Tulsa for support that made possible the wonderful success of the opening day. In spite of the threatening weather conditions that existed all day Saturday, thousands of patrons came to view and admire the new stock of $50,000 worth of merchandise bought for their approval.

The management wishes to apologize for certain departments of the store which were unable to offer complete selections. This fact was due to the uncertain shipping conditions that have existed for the past week and the strike that has existed in the ready-to-wear manufacturing circles of New York and Philadelphia.

The coming week will, however, witness the entire completion of every department in the store. Several thousand dollars worth of merchandise was received Saturday. This we were unable to mark and place on sale.

To those who did not attend the opening day, the management wishes to extend a cordial invitation to do so at their earliest convenience this week, so that you may realize the exemplification of the new store's motto, "THE POPULAR PRICED STORE" of Tulsa. Every item is marked in plain figures and there is no deviation from those figures—one price and one price only, to all.

Service to one and all impartially is the aim of this "POPULAR PRICED STORE," and the management will appreciate the prompt reporting of any discourteous act or inattention on the part of its clerical force.

AGAIN WE THANK YOU

TULSA COUNTY FREE FAIR

Dry Farming Congress Grounds
TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY AND FRIDAY
SEPTEMBER 12, 13, 14 and 15th

This is going to be the finest exhibit of products of Tulsa County ever staged in the city.

An Example

There are but 4 spaces left in the big kafireorn palace building, where the merchants and manufacturers exhibit. Some merchants are building their booths right now. There are but two spaces left in the auto building. Reservations have already been made for 50 head of cattle in the cattle building. Almost as many horsemen have requested space in the horse building.

Eight Big Open-Air Free Acts Have Been Arranged For in Addition to the Fireworks Display and the Services of the Tulsa Band.

This is the people's fair. All are invited and no charges are made for admission or exhibition of Tulsa county products. The grounds give ample room for parking autos and farm wagons. Plan to come and camp with the family during the fair. Information may be had from

W. A. Rayson, President or N. R. Graham, Secretary

Chamber of Commerce Rooms, Merchants and Planters Bank or at the Fair Office on the Grounds.

CONCESSIONS are under the direction of J. O. O'Connell, who may be found at the office of Jordan and Bowen after 4:30 o'clock each afternoon.
